“Break on through to the other side” Trail

Umptanum Falls

Approx ~1mi

4x4

Manastash Ridge Trails
See Evergreen.org for map
Umptanum Falls area:
10 miles south west of Ellensburg is an abandoned double track called “Break on through to the other side”. The ride is 7.5 miles one way with 1800’ gain of elevation going NW→SE and 1400’ gain going back. Drive to the end of the pavement On Umptanum Rd and continue 5.1 miles to parking on the left. Parking is near a wooden decked bridge over Umptanum Creek ¼ mile past Umptanum Falls parking. Ride over the creek heading due south and in little under ½ mile, stay left at the fork. Follow the contour SE toward Durr Rd. Display a Discover Pass to park in the area. Expect ticks, snakes, steep climbs, and running water many months of the year. This is adventure riding. Bring supplies to be self sufficient. Access Umptanum Falls via the trail shown. Loop it either way riding Durr, Break on, and Umptanum for ~20mi of scenic goodness. 3000’+ gain either way. Bring legs.
Umptanum Recreation Area:
12 miles south of Ellensburg, is abandoned double track called “No Country for Old Men” and “Break on through to the other side”. The ride is ~18 miles one way with 3000’ gain of elevation going NW→SE. Drive to the end of the pavement See above info for access to “Break on...” and the connection to this trail. Can be accessed by driving on a very 4x4 road, Durr Rd. in to the Umptanum Creek canyon and back up the other side to the second switch back.
Display a BLM Pass to park in the Umptanum Recreation Area.
Expect ticks, snakes, steep climbs, and running Water many months of the year. This is Adventure riding. Bring supplies to be self sufficient.

5 miles to Durr Rd/Umptanum Rd. intersection

“No Country for Old Men”
9 miles end to end.
Out and back or loop using Durr and Yakima Canyon Roads.